Re: BP Commitment to North Slope Gas Development

Dear Governor Walker:

BP shares your commitment to actively progressing the Alaska LNG Project with all project participants. The success of this project is critically important to the State, as well as BP. We are committed to advancing the commercial and technical aspects of the project, and will continue to focus our efforts and commit our people and resources to reach our mutual objectives.

BP will work with the State to incorporate these terms into withdrawal and gas sales agreements by December 4, 2015. Further, in the unfortunate event that the Alaska LNG Project does not progress, or BP does not participate in this project, BP has and continues to be willing to commit its Prudhoe Bay and Point Thomson natural gas to the Alaska LNG Project, or a substantially similar project that commercializes North Slope natural gas, on terms that are mutually and commercially reasonable. BP commits to expeditiously negotiate those terms in good faith.

Sincerely,
